

Do more lessons help the learning?

"We learn from this and move on" is an oft quoted phrase by sporting managers & coaches of all types and one that has been used around the FCG after 2 very disappointing performances in the last 2 T20 matches. Whilst its still mathematically possible to get a $\frac{1}{4}$ final spot it is unlikely when our last 2 games are against the top 2. How we approach these last 2 games of the season and what the coaches can do to ensure that the lessons are learnt will be interesting

The refurbishment of the manual score box is now complete and how resplendent it looks too. Not just a coat of paint but a full facelift and new kit make it a real centre piece of the Grace Rd side of the ground. It is now 1 of only 2 fully manual boxes on the county circuit, the other being at Canterbury. Credit to all involved in getting this done

This time of year is always one of change and upheaval as players out of contract seek to secure their futures. I long since abandoned the idea of loyalty in professional sport. It's a living a career, like taking photos, working in an office or retail. Players will leave some by choice others at the Clubs behest. To those leaving we say thank you and good luck.

Just a shame my last picture of the talented Tom Taylor was this one at Durham on Sunday

The highest total of 203-5 by Foxes against the Outlaws at Trent Bridge in 2017 saw a 54 ball 100 by Cameron Delport. Jake Ball went for most runs that day conceding 44 runs off his 4 overs but he also bowled 10 dot balls meaning those 44 runs were actually scored of 14 balls seems he went for either nothing or a boundary.

The defeat at Trent Bridge earlier in the month means the Foxes record in T20 against the Outlaws is very similar having won 1 game more on 14 to the Outlaws 13
